If you are a female high school student applying for the 4 year Bachelor of Engineering (Civil) or a combined 5 year Civil Engineering degree program you are encouraged to apply for the Winifred Margaret Neirous Memorial Scholarship which has a total value of $12,000 (4 year program) and $15,000 (5 year program).

The scholarship is tenable for the duration of the degree or combined course in Civil Engineering and is subject to academic performance review of the scholar achieving a high credit average in each semester. Should the financial circumstances of the scholarship holder materially improve during the year, the scholarship may be forfeited.

Payment of $1500 is made to the scholar after each census date of 31 March and 31 August.

To be considered for the scholarship applicants must:
- Be female
- Be enrolling as a full time student
- Be an Australian Citizen or permanent resident
- Not be able to bear the cost of attending university without financial hardship

Applicants must complete and submit the relevant scholarship application form and include a CV demonstrating that they are diligent and of good conduct and that their means, combined with those available from their parents or guardians, are not sufficient to enable them to bear the cost of attending university without financial hardship.

Applicants will be required to attend an interview with the selection committee which will be comprised of the Associate Dean, Education, the Head of School or his nominee and the Benefactor’s nominee.
